ONLINE Industrieelektrik und Anlagentechnik GmbH als Zukunftsgeber ausgezeichnet

Great success for ONLINE Industrie-elektrik und Anlagentechnik GmbH: In the certification process for the "Future Employer" award, which is presented by the Braunschweig Region Employers' Association (AGV), the company was able to earn top marks and was rewarded with the "Future Employer" employer seal.

The competition for the best brains is in full swing. For this reason, many employers are focusing intensively on the question of how to attract and retain skilled workers for their own company. Many small and medium-sized companies are in no way inferior to large corporations when it comes to creating attractive conditions for their employees.

Zukunftsgeber is an award that particularly attractive employers in the region can receive if they take part in the AGV certification process.

ONLINE Industrieelektrik und Anlagentechnik GmbH was tested in a total of nine categories and faced the central questions of flexibility, individual offers and incentives. Overall, top marks were achieved in seven categories: Personnel development and qualification, digital, innovation, communication and transparency, mobility and connectivity, open spaces and comfort as well as a sense of responsibility. In addition, employees with suitable workplaces can bring their dogs to work.

AGV Managing Director Cordula Miosga commented: "ONLINE Industrie-elektrik und Anlagentechnik GmbH can only be congratulated on this good result. Of course, there are always things that can be improved, and this initiative also serves this purpose.

Ramin Mansouri, authorized signatory of ONLINE Industrieelektrik und Anlagentechnik GmbH, accepted the certificate and emphasized that the award is an honour and that the employees are particularly important to him. "We are very pleased that our commitment in the various areas has been recognized and that we were able to gain valuable suggestions as part of the certification process in order to further increase our internal and external attractiveness as an employer. Our internal certification team will now discuss the suggestions and implement suitable measures for our company," emphasizes Ramin Mansouri.

ONLINE Industrieelektrik und Anlagentechnik GmbH has now been added to the list of certified companies on the regional portal die-region.de and zukunftgeber.de. The digital overview of the region's particularly attractive employers of the future can be found there.

"We were very impressed by the commitment to training and the individual development opportunities, which place great value on both soft skills and technical expertise. ONLINE Industrieelektrik und Anlagentechnik GmbH offers its employees attractive development opportunities and the focus is always on communication. It is characterized by a high degree of trust, commitment and solution orientation," concludes Cordula Miosga.
